About Me	I'm a lively and passionate person who enjoys exploring the world, meeting new people, and trying delicious and exciting food. My friends often call me a golden retriever because of my constant energy, warmth, and smile. I love spending time in nature, going on hikes, and playing badminton or frisbee with friends. Music is a big part of my life, and I enjoy everything from heavy metal to Bollywood, depending on my mood. Dance is another outlet I love, it's how I express myself and unwind. Family and friendship are very important to me. I give my all to the people and work I care about, and those close to me know they can always count on me. After earning my Master's in Character Animation from (SCAD) Savannah College of Art and Design, I’ve been creating animations for video games, turning my passion into my profession.
What am I looking for	I’m looking for a partner who is kind, open-minded, and emotionally present someone who truly wants to understand me just as deeply as I want to understand them. I value mutual respect, honest communication, and a sense of support where both of us feel seen and heard. More than anything, I want a connection where we can grow together, navigate life as a team, and bring out the best in each other.
